

Reading your Bible through LENT

Lent is the time when many Christians take the opportunity to DO something rather than give something up. For some, the decision is to read the Bible more regularly.

The questions overleaf will help you reflect on what you read – you may find your assumptions are challenged and God speaks to you in new ways.

+++++

Churches Housing Action Team (CHAT) works across Mid Devon providing practical advice and support to some of the most vulnerable in our community.

Please remember our clients and our work in your prayers during Lent.

Churches Housing Action Team
Coggan's Well House, Phoenix Lane,
Tiverton, Devon EX16 6LU
Telephone 01884 255606
Registered charity no. 1049478

Reading your Bible through LENT

Lent is the time when many Christians take the opportunity to DO something rather than give something up. For some, the decision is to read the Bible more regularly.

The questions overleaf will help you reflect on what you read – you may find your assumptions are challenged and God speaks to you in new ways.

+++++

Churches Housing Action Team (CHAT) works across Mid Devon providing practical advice and support to some of the most vulnerable in our community.

Please remember our clients and our work in your prayers during Lent.

Churches Housing Action Team
Coggan's Well House, Phoenix Lane,
Tiverton, Devon EX16 6LU
Telephone 01884 255606
Registered charity no. 1049478

Reading your Bible through LENT

Lent is the time when many Christians take the opportunity to DO something rather than give something up. For some, the decision is to read the Bible more regularly.

The questions overleaf will help you reflect on what you read – you may find your assumptions are challenged and God speaks to you in new ways.

+++++

Churches Housing Action Team (CHAT) works across Mid Devon providing practical advice and support to some of the most vulnerable in our community.

Please remember our clients and our work in your prayers during Lent.

Churches Housing Action Team
Coggan's Well House, Phoenix Lane,
Tiverton, Devon EX16 6LU
Telephone 01884 255606
Registered charity no. 1049478

Reading your Bible through LENT

Lent is the time when many Christians take the opportunity to DO something rather than give something up. For some, the decision is to read the Bible more regularly.

The questions overleaf will help you reflect on what you read – you may find your assumptions are challenged and God speaks to you in new ways.

+++++

Churches Housing Action Team (CHAT) works across Mid Devon providing practical advice and support to some of the most vulnerable in our community.

Please remember our clients and our work in your prayers during Lent.

Churches Housing Action Team
Coggan's Well House, Phoenix Lane,
Tiverton, Devon EX16 6LU
Telephone 01884 255606
Registered charity no. 1049478

I wonder ...

Who has the power in this Bible Passage? What happens to them?

Who is poor or powerless in the passage? What happens to them?

Whose side is God on?

Why are things the way they are in this passage? Which voices are excluded?

Who were the original audience or readers for the passage?

What kind of world did they live in?

In our world today, which people might have experiences similar to those described in the passage?

How should I respond?

Suggested questions from Church Action on Poverty: <http://www.church-poverty.org.uk/about-us/copyright>

I wonder ...

Who has the power in this Bible Passage? What happens to them?

Who is poor or powerless in the passage? What happens to them?

Whose side is God on?

Why are things the way they are in this passage? Which voices are excluded?

Who were the original audience or readers for the passage?

What kind of world did they live in?

In our world today, which people might have experiences similar to those described in the passage?

How should I respond?

Suggested questions from Church Action on Poverty: <http://www.church-poverty.org.uk/about-us/copyright>

I wonder ...

Who has the power in this Bible Passage? What happens to them?

Who is poor or powerless in the passage? What happens to them?

Whose side is God on?

Why are things the way they are in this passage? Which voices are excluded?

Who were the original audience or readers for the passage?

What kind of world did they live in?

In our world today, which people might have experiences similar to those described in the passage?

How should I respond?

Suggested questions from Church Action on Poverty: <http://www.church-poverty.org.uk/about-us/copyright>

I wonder ...

Who has the power in this Bible Passage? What happens to them?

Who is poor or powerless in the passage? What happens to them?

Whose side is God on?

Why are things the way they are in this passage? Which voices are excluded?

Who were the original audience or readers for the passage?

What kind of world did they live in?

In our world today, which people might have experiences similar to those described in the passage?

How should I respond?

Suggested questions from Church Action on Poverty: <http://www.church-poverty.org.uk/about-us/copyright>